A Prediction of the Spring.

The Vernal quarter or Spring time, beginneth euermore at the true instant of the Sunnes recourse into the first minute of the Equinotiall signe Aries, which will be this Yeare (according to Astronomicall account) 1617. the 10. day of March, in the afternoon, the Celestiall Scheame erected according to Arte, for the time of the Sunnes entrance into Aries, both presignifie this parte of the yeere to fall out somewhat contrary to his naturall inclination, which should be hote and moyst, resembling the Age and Youth of man:

man: for I suppose it will be windy and drie, specially the former parte thereof, the latter part temperate and pleasant weather.

The diseases of the body, likely to molest us this Spring, wilbe much heate, and paine in the head, hote feauers of many kindes, trouble in the eyes, small Pore and meafells afternoone: this summer (as I guesse) wil not differ much from his olvne naturall kinde, (which should be hote & drie, resembling fire, and the middle age of man) yet we are to expect (now & then) some stráge gales of winde, with some sholders of Rayne following the same: thunder & Lightning towards the latter part of this Quarter, &c.

The diseases likely to molest and bere the people this Quarter, are paines in the head,

The infirmities and griefes likely to pursue vs this Quarter, are many and grieuous, as quartaine Agues, Stranguries, Coughs, Collicks, cramps, Stiffnes in the limbs, Sciatica, Fluxes, Palseys, Melancholy passions, Bone-ache, Rotten and corrupted Feauers, and
